Goal indicator/ When & How to measure	[Goal indicator] - Fulfill sales based on monthly target 1st stage: Market Share within 10 ten brand (1 year after launch) KPI Monthly until end of year RMS Nielsen Data
Background	[Market circumstances, Competitors and Mandom] - The current situation of the fragrance female market has decreased significantly due to the Pandemic. - One of the driving forces for the decline in the fragrance female market is the spray cologne (plastic bottle). - Consumers who use spray cologne are those who are most affected by the pandemic so that sales of spray colognes have decreased. - However, the Aerosol (Can bottle) market is quite stable and still growing in the current Pandemic situation.  Source : RMS Nielsen MAT 2021(Feb)
	[Competitor Situation] - The Aerosol market situation is dominated by Posh that come with low prices, attractive designs, nice and long-lasting fragrances. - Newcomer in Aerosol market, Izzi come with attractive design, attractive concept series, and affordable price targeting teenagers. [Company Situation] - Pucelle after rebranding in 2019, currently Pucelle has upgraded to high quality image, focusing elegant image and targeting middle-up segment. - MID needs to have other weapons besides Pucelle to be able to compete with "Affordable price for lower segment market". [Consumer wants, situation] - The prolonged pandemic situation has put more pressure on economic conditions, resulting in low consumer purchasing power. - Uncertainty of income that occurs in middle society'as well which results in consumers having to be careful in spending their budgets when buying products. - Teenagers with lower budgets will buy products with more value (Aerosol that has deodorant function with nice fragrance) at a lower price, attractive design packaging and easy to carry/travel friendly. [Future prospects] - Increasing MID market share in Fragrance-L. - Lovillea rebranding can success in the market. - Achieve good profit for company with this category.
